

For the evolved traveller

Welcome to Red Earth

Allow me to introduce us as an off –beat property.
Red Earth is completely into sustainable tourism.
90% of our staff are from the Local & Tribal Community.

The TadobaAndhariTiger Reserve is a biodiversity hotspot, the largest and oldest national park in Maharashtra.

Cradled by the thickly forested Chaimur, Moharliand KolsaHills, the reserve's cliffs and caves provide ample refuge to animals.

The reserve's startling diversity of flora and fauna are fed by perennial waters of the Tadoba, KolsaLakes and the AndhariRiver.

Legend of Taru

The Gond kings once ruled these forests. Taru was their village chief who was killed in a mythological encounter with a tiger. A shrine to Lord Taru lies beneath a huge tree on the banks of lake Tadoba. An annual fair is held by the Indigenous tribes between the months of December and January.

The name Red Earth has come from the colour of our soil.

The construction is done with fly ash, a spill over from the various factories that abound in Nagpur and Chandrapur.

About the Cottages

The floor tiles inside the cottages are a combination of stones from different parts of the country.

Most of our furniture too is antique, collected from different parts of India. All of these techniques and arts are dying out. Red Earth, in its attempt towards sustainable tourism, tries to ensure their survival.

The only resort at Zari Gate, this property is 15 acres in size with 20 cottages. Most of the cottages are along the narrow river inside the property.

Each cottage has its own private wade pool and all the water used in the property, goes to an STP plant, where it gets treated and comes back to our gardens through drip irrigation.

Our land slopes towards the river and rain water is naturally harvested into the water bodies inside the property.

Google maps will show that we have the forests on all three sides of our property.

In keeping with our efforts as an eco-sensitive property, we have wi-fi only in the business area. We also do not use insecticide and pesticide.

We have planted 350 different species of fruiting plants and trees. All of this together has ensured an abundance of birds, butterflies and bees.

Solar energy has been harvested and used in the property.

Red Earth is the home we have opened to you - from our music, our decor, our gardens, to our food -there is a touch of us.

Our poultry is all free ranging. Our meat is Halal.

For the Vegetarians: We have 2 separate kitchens with all equipment, fridges and freezers separate. Our kitchens cater to all and any specific diets.

Red Earth is a resort with personality. A pet-friendly resort open to all our four-legged friends, we have steered away from the typical suited -booted, hotels with a clinical feel.

This is a holiday for the aesthetic traveller who enjoys silence, nature, good food and music. Do enjoy your holiday with us. We believe in hospitality which comes from the heart.
